

Orange and Blue Hopes to Upset Harvard---Stuart Injured and Out of Line-up

VIRGINIA HOPEFUL OF WINNING FROM HARVARD VARSITY

Orange and Blue Cohorts Arrive in Cambridge and Look to Defeat Crimson.

STUART OUT WITH INJURIES

Thurman's Punting Has Fallen Off, But He Hopes to Equal New Haven Work.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 15.—Virginia, victor over Yale two weeks ago, is here and hopes to defeat the Harvard eleven today. The Southerners are praying for a dry field, as their best plays are end runs. The indications are that conditions will be perfect in this particular. There was little Harvard money in sight when the Virginia squad arrived.

This is the first game Virginia ever played in the Stadium and, despite that victory over Yale two weeks ago, 10 to 0, there is a deep-seated feeling here that the Southerners will find the Crimson a tougher customer than Old Eli. However, few are willing to bet anything on their convictions.

Virginia has sixteen men in its squad here. Ward, Stillwell, White, and Roark were all taken as ends, and will likely all be used. White's shoulder is in good shape now, and he is back in the game in earnest. The other men are showing up well, especially Dick Stillwell, whose work has amazed the coaches. Stuart, the tackle, who was the most central time of the Yale game, was injured in the contest against Richmond College, and was not able to make the trip. It is likely that his hand will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season, but his place will not lack for contenders. Moore being the most promising of them.

Moore gained his letter last year at guard, but this season was shifted to tackle. Thomas Coleman, who played center, is the man who fell across Yale's goal line October 2 with the ball in his possession. He says that it is his wish to do as for Harvard as well, and then win from them. His brother, Harris Coleman, is captain of the team, and holds down left guard. Allen Thurman, star punter, is opposite him in the line.

Thurman's punting this week has fallen off quite a bit, but he declares that he will surely do better in today's game, even though pitted against the famous Mahan, often called America's best punter. G. W. Anderson will be at the other tackle, while the line subs will be Brown, center guard, and tackle, and Calhoun, guard and tackle.

As to the backfield "Buck" Mayer will be there, and the indication of his having been spotted. The other half has Ed Anderson and Ed Tippet to fill it, both of whom are now in good condition. Tippet's shoulder, which was sprained last week, is well now, and he will likely be used against Harvard. His tackling is the best of the Virginia team, and his speed is likely to be of advantage on Virginia's end runs from punt formation.

The quarter back position will be filled by any of three men, and perhaps all of them, Berkeley, Gooch, and Luck. The first of these is the regular quarter, and his return of punts and broken runs against Yale was a feature of that contest. Billy Gooch also has been showing up very well of late, and will likely get in the game. Luck can go in as half as well as quarter, and will be a general backfield substitute. Sparr is slated for full as expected.

A goodly number of students accompanied the Virginia squad from Charlottesville. They form a small but extremely noisy cheering section today.

Women Golfers Hand In Cards for Tourney

Women golfers at Columbia Country Club are handing in their cards today for rating in the tournament which is to start Monday. Play during the week was developed some good scores which will be announced later. A large field is expected in the tourney Monday. BASEBALL GOES INTO SECLUSION FOR PERIOD OF SIX MONTHS

Technical Eleven Is Tackling Poly's Team

Champions Here Meeting Baltimore Titleholders in Monumental City—Other Schools Engage in Grid-Iron Contests at Home and Away.

By BRYAN MORSE. The scholastic champions of Baltimore and Washington meet today in the Monumental City, when the Technical High School football team meets the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute eleven. Tech was winner here last season and retains the title until the series here is decided. In Baltimore the "Polys" as they are called, roundly defeated the Baltimore City College and other schools there for the title.

The outcome of today's game will be watched with interest as a line can be gotten on the brand of football played in the two cities. Last year Western and the Baltimore City College team played a 6 to 6 tie, Western having a bit the better of the argument. In the final battle with the Polys the City College eleven was badly beaten, it is understood.

Tech is reported to have a fast eleven and one not as large physically as those generally put out at the school. The Polys are as fast and big as many of the smaller elevens, and Tech will probably have its work cut out for it.

Business is taking its annual jaunt to Charlotte Hall Military Academy, at Charlotte Hall, Md. Coach White and his players expect a decisive victory. Business won last year by 22 to 0, and is expecting to repeat the feat. The two performances of the Business eleven so far have been one-sided victories. The orange and blue eleven has been up against little real opposition, and has succeeded in perfecting a fine offense system.

The defense of the Business team has not been subjected to a thorough test. In the games played but few hard downs have been made by the opposition. Business believes the Stenographers are in line for the title this season.

Another out of town trip for a high school eleven is that being taken by Central today. The team coached by John Thomas has had its downs mostly to date. The team is expected to win today playing the Virginia Athletic Club, at Alexandria. Carl Mueller, well remembered in Washington as one of the best all-around men developed here, is coaching the Virginia A. C.

Western and St. Albans are hooked up today at Satterlee Field in their annual engagement. Both teams will be without the services of several regulars, but the battle will be one well worth going to see on account of the rivalry between the schools. Washington followers of scholastic sport will have a chance to see out of the West with a fine reputation. Wallace played on the Shuttuck Military Academy team last year, and is an all-around athlete.

The Gonzaga eleven, after a setback at the hands of Central, also out of town today playing the Virginia Athletic Club, at Alexandria. Carl Mueller, well remembered in Washington as one of the best all-around men developed here, is coaching the Virginia A. C.

Eastern took a 7 to 0 defeat from Coach Newberry's Army and Navy Prep School eleven on Friday Field yesterday, but presented a fast eleven against its heavier opponents. The showing of the Eastern team was as good as could be expected. The Prep could have scored often had he been able to keep from fumbling. Eastern presented a light eleven which fought at all times. The Capital Hill boys held for downs on the 7-yard line once, taking the ball away.

St. Albans will play Charlotte Hall here next Saturday, according to the schedule announced today. On October 20 the St. Albans eleven plays the Marston School of Baltimore here. November 6 the Gilman Country School, Frederick, will play at the school. November 12 the Alexandria High School will be seen in action.

The Columbia Country Club tennis team plays the Dumbarton Club players today in a return match at the Columbia Country Club. The Columbia men have been strengthened by Paul Treanor.

Dumbarton expects to get an even break on the matches today as the St. Albans eleven plays the Marston School of Baltimore here. November 6 the Gilman Country School, Frederick, will play at the school. November 12 the Alexandria High School will be seen in action.

Pays Big Price To Obtain Tickets

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The following cablegram was received last night by Dr. Thomas Barbour, '09, of Marlboro street, curator of the Oceanica, from a Harvard graduate in Tananarive, the capital of Madagascar: "Leaving tomorrow; get me Yale tickets." At $2.80 a word the cost of reserving a seat in the stadium for November 20 amounted to $16.80. The man who sent the cablegram is Frederick R. Wilson, '13, who left Cambridge in 1914, after obtaining a degree at the Harvard Engineering School, and who has been collecting specimens in British East Africa and Madagascar for the Agassiz Museum.

COLUMBIA GOLFERS TAKE M. A. HONORS

Defeat Norfolk and Chevy Chase on Home Course for Middle Atlantic Title.

Columbia Country Club players triumphed in the annual team play matches for the championship of the Middle Atlantic Golf Association on their own course yesterday in winning the semi-finals and final rounds. The Columbia men won in the qualifying round, kept up their winning play yesterday in the morning by defeating the Norfolk club by 4 to 1, and also turned back the Chevy Chase golfers in the afternoon by the same score.

Chevy Chase won from the Hermitage Golf Club of Richmond in the morning, but found the sterling golf of their old rivals too much in the afternoon. Samuel Daltell was the only player of the Chevy Chase Club to go through the tournament without defeat for his club. His exceptional golf in the qualifying round was continued yesterday and his defeat of John C. Davidson in the final was a fine finish to his earlier golf.

The summaries follow: CHAMPIONSHIP CLASS. Columbia Country Club, 4; Norfolk, 1; John C. Davidson (Columbia), 1; H. H. Hermitage, 0; George F. James (Columbia), 1; Joseph Hume (Norfolk), 0; J. Barron (Norfolk), 1; C. A. Nett (Norfolk), 0.

Columbia Country Club, 1; A. S. Crawford (Norfolk), 0; A. Winter (Columbia), 1; C. A. Nett (Norfolk), 0.

Chevy Chase Club, 4; Hermitage, 1; Samuel Daltell (Chevy Chase), 1; W. Wallace Davidson (Chevy Chase), 1; F. H. Ellis (Chevy Chase), 1; W. M. Neale (Hermitage), 0; W. Tuckerman (Chevy Chase), 1; M. Peck (Hermitage), 0.

Columbia, 4; Chevy Chase, 1; Samuel Daltell (Chevy Chase), 1; John C. Davidson (Columbia), 0; Donald Woodward (Columbia), 1; F. H. Ellis (Chevy Chase), 1; W. Tuckerman (Columbia), 1; W. M. Neale (Chevy Chase), 0.

Consolation Class. Washington C. Club, 1; Bannockburn, 1; John C. Davidson (Washington), 1; R. Taylor (Bannockburn), 0; George E. Truett (Washington), 1; J. T. Casanblanc (Bannockburn), 1; S. L. Mosby (Washington), 0; J. St. John (Washington), 1; J. T. Harris (Bannockburn), 0.

W. Wallace (Hermitage), 1; H. H. Hume (Norfolk), 0; W. Neale (Hermitage), 1; J. Hume (Norfolk), 0; J. S. Barron (Norfolk), 1; J. H. Balvin (Norfolk), 0; A. S. Crawford (Norfolk), 1; W. Peck (Hermitage), 0; S. Jones (Hermitage), 1; C. A. Nett (Norfolk), 0.

Solkman A. C. Ready.

The Solkman A. C. will be represented this fall by a good basketball team, captained by John Bowen. M. J. Maroon will have charge of the team as manager and should have a good team as he has the following men to pick from: Gallagher, Cornell, Landley, West, Morris, Maroon, Kendrick, Bowen, Smith, Gohlsch, Jones, Fried, first entrance early in the summer. The Doyles, George Howard, Hilver, Lincoln, and some other District cracks will be seen in action.

Fraternity Pin Teams Furnish Big Surprises

Eta Takes Two From Epsilon Number 1, While Number 2 Drops Pair to Pi—Baker Is Star of Set, While A. Noak Is Second.

Eta took two games out of three from Epsilon No. 1, which was quite a surprise. Baker, rolling for Eta, came across with a very good set, and although A. Noak made a good effort to carry his team, was unable to do so. But one game. There seems to be a little bit of over-confidence on the part of the team composed of half of last year's pennant winners.

Thursday night Pi took two games from Epsilon No. 2, which looked like another case of over-confidence on the part of the boys from the Epsilon Chapter. It seemed to be quite a number of scores in the 70's on the Epsilon team on that date. Such things as this make one think if they are real bowlers or not. Maybe it was one of their off nights.

Delta seems to be lagging on the job quite a bit, and so early in the season, too. They forfeited three games to Alpha a couple of nights ago, which makes Alpha the leaders by a good margin.

W. Warren appeared to be the same old bowler of last year, going along slow but sure, just like "Old Reliable."

Someone asked "What is the trouble with Beta?" Never mind, the season is just started, so wait a while until he gets in form and the writer is sure he will be rolling up some big scores.

There was quite an interesting feature the other night, when two teammates of last year were out against each other. Rouse was rolling against Morgan, who had the high individual average of last year. Strange to say, Rouse topped him in the three games. Good for Rouse. That boy sure has improved a great deal in the last year or so. Give him time and he will be a real bowler some day.

All together the match promises to be pretty close this year, and no doubt the boys from the Epsilon Chapter will not have it as easy as they had it last season.

The standing of the teams is as follows: Alpha, 5; Beta, 3; Gamma, 2; Delta, 1; Epsilon, 0; Eta, 0; Theta, 0; Iota, 0; Kappa, 0; Lambda, 0; Mu, 0.

RED SOX ARE AWAY TO WINTER RETREATS

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—It's "see you next year" stuff now with the world's champions. Each member of the glorious Red Sox is hunkering down for the winter. The team is expected to start at home in Lewiston, Me., but rain forced them to wait over.

Tris Speaker is heading for the White Mountains on a hunting trip. Later he will meander down to his Texas cotton ranch.

Larry Gardner declared he will kick around New England during the chilly months, and especially Vermont.

Everett Scott hiked early today for Bluffton, Ill., to run his billiard parlor. Ray Collins is looking the scenery over from a Boston and Maine car window on the way to his stock and dairy farm in Vermont.

Del Gainer is leaving for a close-to-nature session in or near Elkins, W. Va. Ernie Shore is waiting no time in getting to his home near Greensboro, N. C.

George Foster's home is in Pokoshe, Okla. and he says it's a nice ride there. Joe Wood and Mrs. Wood will motor to their home in Parkersburg, Pa. Dick Carrigan and Forest G. Day are scheduled to work on the All-Star team, and will no doubt reach California late in the winter.

MINCE PIE "LITTLE OF EVERYTHING" BY "BUGS" BAER.

Reports from Flanders state that football players make fine soldiers, but they'd better not try it on Coach Exendine.

NO ALIBIS. Great Alex spoke, "I ain't no bloke to belch when I am stopped. They nicked me square, they trimmed me fair. They had my numeral copped."

Famed Alex spoke, "It's hard to take, But I'm no bird to bawl, I'll hang no crepe, I was in shape, They beat me, that is all."

I ain't no guy to alibi, Although my whip was lame, I had a cold, I couldn't hold A ball, but I am game.

My back was wrenched, I should have benched, But I'm no fish to whine, A tendon tore, my leg was sore, But no alibis in mine."

Erskine Mayer Was Pie. Any admirers giving banquets to the Boston Red Sox should remember they took their dessert early.
